

Intruders Fail To Get Spy Files

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 2 (AP).—Security police are investigating an attempt to rob the safe of the lawyer defending Col. Stig Wennerstroem, charged with espionage for the Soviet Union.

The intruders reportedly entered the lawyer's office during the Christmas holidays and tried without success to open the safe, in which documents on the Wennerstroem case were kept.

Col. Wennerstroem, formerly stationed in Washington, was arrested last summer and police say he has admitted working for the Russians during World War II. He is being held at Stockholm police headquarters.

CPYRGHT